Short reflection on your approach to this challenge, including any struggles you faced and the steps you took to solve them.

- In this exercise flexbox, I struggle to determine what syntax going to use, because some syntax have the same attributes like the justify-content and align-items, but reading back the lessons really help me to solved those challenges. The exercise is fun and easy to understand in some ways. I took this exercise maybe at least 30 minutes to figure out how to finish it.
